Plant extracts

We are able to offer an extensive range of plant extracts and with ongoing innovation, the product list continuously expands. Manufactured in Europe with the highest consideration for the plant material and its environment; its origin, growers, quality and sustainability, various extraction techniques are used dependent upon the finished extract that is to be manufactured. Whether it be proprietary high pressure, temperature controlled, percolation or maceration as a process, finished extracts produced can either be oil or water soluble, ensuring hydrophilic and lipophilic active compounds are captured with a solvent and preservative system to suit the customers application.

Please contact us to discuss your requirements or enquire for a material not listed.
